allow you to work on each inspirational quote in a fun way with your art set. You can color a page a day or a page a week and this can become part of your daily journaling and gratitude practice. As you color each affirmation, you will automatically be repeating the affirmations multiple times. This is a beautiful way to even include mindfulness into your daily ritual and treasure on your book self. Mindfulness is often created through activities such as running, cooking, yoga, Pilates, and this is another way to bring about a new awareness. As your mind will be occupied in choosing different colors, filling the patterns and repeating the affirmations, making it, we believe, a wonderful mindful experience. Oprah Winfrey famously said - "you don't become what you want, you become what you believe". How do you change what you believe? By using empowering mantras to positively change and affect your conscious and unconscious mind. A basic and simple method to do this is to use Positive words. The importance of our thinking has been highlighted over the ages. Even Buddha said "We are shaped by our thoughts; we become what we think." To reach our full potential and unleash your true self, use Affirmations We hope this book will help you unleash your unlimited power and creativity. Adult coloring books are now as popular as ever. This makes a great birthday gift, Mother's Day gift or other special occasions. Add this to your collection of motivational books. We recommend using art kits such as colored pencils, paint, gouache, 3d pens, paint pens, gel pens, glow in the dark paint - be as daring as you'd like. Use these mandalas to create templates for inspirational wall art, canvas wall art, bathroom or home décor wall art.
